BRISBANE CITY HALL

Since opening in 1930, Brisbane City Hall has been a symbol of civic pride and over the years it has become one of Brisbane's greatest icons and the home of elegance and grandeur.

On Saturday 6 April 2013 Brisbane City Hall reopened following a 3 year, $215m restoration program with EPICURE appointed by the Brisbane City Council to manage the event spaces within Brisbane City Hall and King George Square and assume the role of exclusive caterer and licensee.

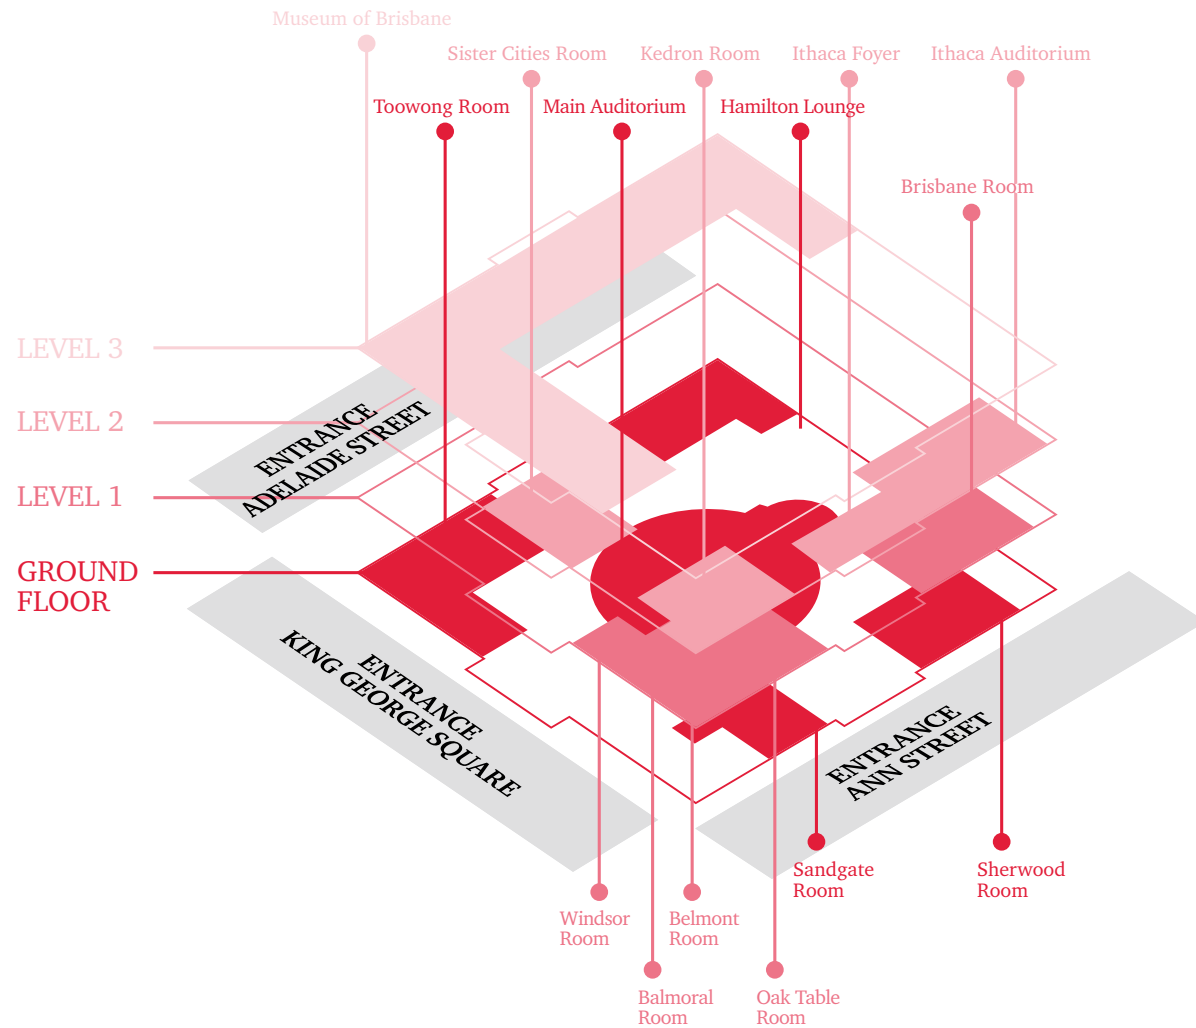

EPICURE invites you to bring your next event to Brisbane City Hall joining the magical history of this iconic Brisbane venue.

EPICURE Philosophy

A UNIQUE PHILOSOPHY FOR THE GOOD LIFE

Favouring local suppliers, we're always aiming to reduce our carbon footprint by supporting home grown, environmentally sustainable produce.

It's a food philosophy that we feel very strongly about. It goes to the heart of the epicurean philosophy – creating happiness through good food, good wine, good friends – in a way that does no harm.

This approach means we are constantly researching suppliers who produce food of exceptional quality using humane methods.

We use free-range poultry and free-range small goods wherever possible, and we never use cage-reared eggs. All seafood is Australian, farmed or wild.

Our philosophy also extends to the sourcing of specialty local dry goods such as nuts, grains, and vinegars, as well as local mineral water, 100% Australian orange juice and a fair trade coffee blend. This approach has helped us to create exciting seasonal menus that revolve around fresh local produce when it's at its best.

So whatever time of year your wedding is being held, you'll be guaranteed an outstanding meal.

Our chefs combine this ethical approach with their great passion and extensive experience. They draw inspiration from food trends from around the world and bring this to all of their dishes.

Good food with an ethical approach, not only creates a great event; it's a key ingredient in the good life.
