CHAMPAGNE – NON-VINTAGE

Non-Vintage Champagne makes up 85-90 percent of all Champagne produced every year. The art of Non-Vintage Champagne is in the blending, each year producing a house style that is both unique and consistent.

Each producer's Non-Vintage Champagne is a special house blend usually composed of different grape varieties (Chardonnay, Pinot Noir and Pinot Meunier) as well as several different years and many (sometimes up to 40 or 50) different base wines from different villages around the Champagne region.

The reputation of an established house is based on its Non-Vintage wines. House styles vary from the complexity and concentration of a Krug or Bollinger to the fine delicacy of a Taittinger, with Pol Roger and Veuve Clicquot as typical models of classical balance.

CHAMPAGNE – VINTAGE

Vintage Champagne is made when all the grapes have been harvested from a single year. If the conditions of a particular vintage are favourable, some producers will 'declare' a vintage and will make a Vintage wine. Each Champagne producer decides for itself whether it will declare a Vintage in any given year.

Vintage Champagne must be at least three years old before it is sold, although many of the top houses will age their wines for much longer than the legal minimum. A Vintage Champagne can reflect the unique character of a vintage with a twist of interpretation from the house style.

BLANC DE BLANCS CHAMPAGNE

Blanc de Blancs is a distinctive and specific style that is usually lighter, crisper and more delicate and must be produced from the Chardonnay grape only. Usually the lightest and freshest of styles, they are also capable of aging magnificently.

PRESTIGE CUVÉES

A 'Cuvée de Prestige' is usually the top blended wine from each major established Champagne producer. Most Champagne houses produce a special flagship wine in a vintage year and these are normally deemed the Prestige or Deluxe Cuvée. The most famous of these, of course, is Moët's Cuvée Dom Perignon which began as a Prestige Cuvée in 1921.

Grapes for Prestige Cuvées are generally hand-selected from the best vineyards in only the most favourable vintages, although a Prestige Cuvée can also be a Non-Vintage wine. Sometimes, a Prestige Cuvée can even be made with fruit from just one single vineyard, a rarity in Champagne. These distinctive wines are often released in uniquely shaped bottles.

SPARKLING WINE

The style of sparkling wine that has made the Champagne region so famous is also made in other parts of France as well as in other parts of Europe and, most importantly, right here in Australia and New Zealand.

These wines can have very similar flavours to Champagne and the best of them can match Champagne for finesse and style, without the price tag.

CHARDONNAY FROM AROUND THE WORLD

Burgundy is France's traditional home of Chardonnay although now the grape is grown widely all over the world. Burgundy creates many styles of Chardonnay, from the cool, crisp, mineral-driven wines of Chablis to the richer, more textured styles of Meursault and Montrachet.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON & BLENDS

The practice of blending Cabernet Sauvignon with Merlot has been inspired by the great wines of Bordeaux. Sometimes the blend includes other varieties such as Malbec, Petit Verdot and the elusive Cabernet Franc.

Each producer will vary the blend each year to reflect the vintage conditions and also to create a house style.
