DAVID'S CELLAR

I was bought up from a very young age appreciating wine with my meal. Being French, this is part of our culture and our heritage.

I have also enjoyed the privilege of travelling the world through my career as a chef. Along the way I have educated myself in what has become a huge passion for me. I believe that a good meal can be taken to the next level when matched with a great wine.

I have been a collector of fine wines, particularly French varieties, for many years and am delighted to bring this selection of some of my favourites to you. I have personally chosen them to complement the flavours in my menus.

After all food is not just about eating. It's about memories, influences and enjoyment. I believe that wine is also an essential part of the dining table. I love to serve a great meal and fine wine to my customers, friends and family. It encourages passionate conversation and creates memorable moments. Santé!
