BONDI BEACH PUBLIC BAR

Bondi Beach Public Bar is situated in the heart of Bondi Beach, calling the corner of Campbell Parade and Curlewis Street home. BBPB is a modern Public Bar and a representation of a modern day Pub, whilst tapping into the energy and attitude of 1970s & 80s Australian pub culture. It's a community-driven, family-friendly place where people can eat, drink and relax by the beach.

“Whenever I am asked what BBPB is I reply very simply that it's a Public Bar. Its not a hotel with a dining room or wine room, its just a basic Public Bar. It takes pride in being a bar that represents Sydney and Bondi Beach today whilst maintaining the simple qualities that a Public Bar should have... community values, good food and a simple cold beer.” – Maurice Terzini

BBPB is a post-mix free zone and the drinks channel Australia's '70 and '80s drinking culture, but with a modern approach, and quality CAPI mixers. As for the wine list, BBPB offers a concise wine list in line with a minimal intervention philosophy by Wine Director, James Hird.

“It's an ode to traditional public bars, so there are counter meals, it's an everyday venue. It's just easy and cheap,” - Terzini.

Welcome to Bondi Beach Public Bar.

BEVERAGE

WINE

BBPB offers a concise wine list in line with a minimal intervention philosophy by Wine Director, James Hird. “For me drinkability is key, I really hate not being able to drink wine when I hit a pub”, says Hird. “It’s been great fun putting together the BBPB wine list. It’s pretty wild for a Public Bar to have Latta Vino orange wine and our exclusive bottling of Cantina Giardino Terzini Anfora Rosato in the mix. We really wanted the Public Bar list to be accessible so we have sourced some cracking lo-fi wine made in the Adelaide Hills (a Sauvignon Blanc) and Pinot Grigio from the King Valley in Victoria to keep the beach-goers hydrated.”

DRINKS

BBPB is a post-mix free zone and the drinks channel Australia’s ’70 and ’80s drinking culture, but with a modern approach, and a dedicated approach to quality. The Terzini classics such as the No. 8, Negroni and a selection of Sbagliato’s are some of the highlights.
